

International Credential Evaluation: Let's Start From the Beginning

Credential Analysis 101

3 things to consider

- 1) Authenticity of original documents
- 2) Accuracy of translation
- 3) Consistency of Interpretation
  - 1) GPA
  - 2) Completion Benchmarks
  - 3) Document Completion

Authenticity of Documents

- Autobiographical information is consistent
- English translation is literal
- Document was issued by stated institution
- Institution is recognized/accredited by proper authority

Authenticity of Documents

- Is it stamped or signed by the proper authorities?
- Does stamp or seal match institution name?
- Is it an original or a copy?

Consistency of Interpretation

Know your institution's policies and practices to be sure you and your office are interpreting credentials in the same way.

What information does your institution need from the credential?

- US equivalent?
- Courses taken?
- GPA?
- Number of credits?
- Other?

Document Completion

Challenge:

- Country undergoes changes in education system
  - Venezuela for example
    - Confirm completion of education
    - Student provides proper documents

Document Completion

- What to do when you're not sure which documents the student needs to provide?
- What happens when the names of documents have changed?

New Venezuelan Secondary Education Certificates

Posted Wednesday, January 04, 2012 In Secondary | Venezuela / Like (1)

In a March 2010 circular, the Ministerio del Poder Popular para la Educación (Ministry of People's Power for Education) approved the names of new primary and secondary education certificates:

1. Certificado de Educación Primaria (Certificate of Primary Education) awarded upon completion of six years of primary education
2. Título de Educación Media General (Title of General Secondary Education) awarded upon completion of five years of general secondary education. The title also confirms the specialization and its designated plan of study, e.g.:
  - a) Título de Educación Media General en Ciencias, Plan de Estudio 31018
  - b) Título de Educación Media General Industrial mención Dibujo Técnico, Plan de Estudio 43044
3. Título de Educación Media Técnica (Title of Technical Secondary Education) awarded upon completion of six years of technical secondary education. The title also confirms the specialization and its designated plan of study, e.g.:
  - a) Título de Educación Media Técnica en Agropecuaria mención Producción Agrícola, Plan de Estudio 41035
  - b) Título de Educación Media Técnica Industrial mención Petróleo Opción Mecánica de Mantenimiento, Plan de Estudio 43162

The new system replaces the existing credential structure of Certificado de Educación Primaria (6 years) followed by Certificado de Educación Básica (3 years), followed by either the Título de Bachiller en ^ (2 years) or Título de Técnico en ^ (3 years).

- All the resources listed above if taken out of context can lead you to a different answer.
- But all the resources used together along with the information the student provided can help put the puzzle together.

Document Completion

- Venezuela has undergone a series of changes in recent years and it has made it difficult to ensure that the student has not only completed an educational system but also has the proper documentation.
